

Are you ready?

Congratulations on moving forward to the next stage of the hiring process! You might be excited, nervous and wondering how to prepare for this interview. Well, we're here to help!

Here are a few tips for you:

Ask Yourself...	Yes	No
Did you check out atlassian.com/careers for more information on the role you've applied to?
Do you have some specific examples of work you have done that are relevant to the role?
Have you done research on Atlassian and our company values?
Did you write down a few questions for your interviewers?
Were you able to check your interviewer/s profiles on LinkedIn?
If this is a telephone or online video interview, will you be somewhere quiet and with a good connection?

If you ticked YES to all questions, you're all set for your interview!

Feel free to approach us if you do have other questions about Atlassian or the hiring process. Otherwise, good luck with your application and be ready to meet your interviewers!
